

Privacy Status

The icon in the top bar reflects the Privacy Status of the message, which is the lowest common denominator of all communication partners of that message, for example:

In this case the Privacy Status of the message is Secure, because this is the lowest common denominator of the two communication partners.